FOREWORD

OUR first sale at Danville, held last November, was more or less of an experiment. We had the feeling that Eastern Illinois and Western Indiana were so ideally suited to the growing of good Shorthorn cattle that an annual sale to supply the needs of farmers and breeders in this section was a necessity. Danville, because of its central location, was chosen as the selling point. The results of that sale proved conclusively that these farmers and breeders appreciated our efforts. Following the sale, the writer asked each buyer the question: "Will you buy Shorthorns of better quality and stronger ancestry if we assemble such an offering?" An affirmative answer came from each man who was interviewed. This information was passed on to the best breeders in the Danville trade territory and they responded beautifully. They have gone deeply into their herds and are supplying a wonderful lot of cattle for this second sale at Danville. Study this catalog and note the strong ancestry behind each animal. Then come to the sale and see for yourself the high quality and good type represented in this offering. The 17 bulls are royally bred and of real herd heading type. No sale this Spring will offer more quick profit females. There is an impending shortage of pure bred beef cattle and Shorthorns in particular are showing a definite upward price trend. The cattle in this offering have been drawn from strong, reliable herds and I do not hesitate to make the assertion that those who buy them will be rewarded by rich profits. I cordially invite you to make purchases from one of the best consignment sale offerings with which I have been connected.—Hal Longley of The Shorthorn World.
